THE LOCAL MILLERS

Decide That Wheat May Touch One Dollar Per Bushel.

The local millers of this section held a convention at Louisville on Thursday which was well attended. One matter under discussion was the prospect of a rise or fall in the price of wheat. It was the opinion of the millers that the price of wheat would probably reach $1.00 per bushel. The fact that the Argentine Republic expects to export 200,000,000 bushels this year will have a tendency to lower the price of wheat in this section. The Argentine wheat harvest is in December, and the crop is said to be an enormous one.

Dayton, O., Oct. 16.—Another political feature was added to the Ohio Federation of Labor convention, Friday, when Max S. Hayes of Cleveland took the delegates off their feet with a resolution for the establishment of a new labor party.

LANDSLIDE

For Bryan in Ohio Seen by Hissey, Former Legislative Agent for the Late Senator Hanna.

Washington, Oct. 16.—In discussing the political situation in Ohio, M. W. Hissey, of Zanesville, intimate friend and legislative agent of the late Senator M. A. Hanna, said: "The situation there at the present moment indicates a landslide for Bryan from Lake Erie to the river." Continuing he said:

"The republican party in the state is on the verge of division because of the attitude of President Roosevelt."

"The republican party in Ohio has been the party of the majority, and never before has it heard from any president the expression, 'My policies.' The party always has been greater than any one man. It was so with Hayes, Garfield and McKinley—the party was above the individual, and they always spoke of republican policies."

"Mr. Roosevelt speaks of 'my policies' as though the party had become his personal property. This has disgusted the rank and file of the party in Ohio."

"Mr. Roosevelt, by the use of the big stick and the steam roller, has nominated his successor, whom he declares will carry out 'my policies,' and Judge Taft agrees to do so to the letter, showing conclusively that the republican party has lost its identity and has become the personal property of Mr. Roosevelt."

"The business interests of Ohio demand to know why these hard times occur under 'my policy' administration. McKinley left a full dinner pail. Under Mr. Roosevelt the bottom has dropped out. There are no natural reasons for the existence of these hard times. It is up to Mr. Roosevelt, who claims to own the republican party, to explain the situation."

"The people of Ohio resent Mr. Roosevelt's attempt to assassinate the character of one of her foremost citizens, namely, Senator J. B. Foraker. Ohio is proud of Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Sherman, McKinley, Hanna and Foraker—but among her great sons there is none greater than Senator J. B. Foraker—and the president's brutal treatment is indignantly resented by the republicans of Ohio, from the lake to the river."

"A serious disaffection exists in the negro vote in Ohio, and 60 per cent of that will be cast for Bryan. All over the state the negroes are wearing buttons with the inscription: 'Remember Brownsville.' This means 30,000 votes against Taft."

"There is serious division in the laboring vote, 80 per cent of which will be cast against Taft and for Mr. Bryan, and the republican laboring vote will mean 40,000."

"There are in the state of Ohio 500,000 republicans. Of this number it is safe to say that 150,000 are Forakerites. It is not claimed that the entire number will vote against Mr. Taft. It is a conservative estimate, however, that 10 per cent, are sullen and angry, and Senator Foraker himself could not prevail upon them to vote for Mr. Taft."

"We have, therefore, a change of 85,000 republican votes. Someone may say that Mr. Roosevelt carried the state by 225,000, but it must be remembered that that vote was four years ago, and that the last vote in Ohio showed the election of Gov. Patton, a democrat, by 43,000 plurality, and the highest plurality given to any republican candidate on the state ticket was only 48,000."

TUSC. FAIR

One of the Most Successful Ever Held. 5000 in Attendance Friday.

Canal Dover, Oct. 16.—The Tuscarawas county fair closed here today with an attendance of about 5000. The officials of the Tuscarawas County Agricultural society say this fair was one of the most successful ever held, although Wednesday and Friday were not as big days as expected.

The closing day's races were starting, although the first on the program, the 2:15 trot, was won easily by Tellus, owned by Karns and Davis, of Canal Dover. Tellus took things easily in every heat, although he was pushed rather hard by The Hoosier in the second heat.

After four heats of pretty racing Balder, with Allie Walters driving, won first money in the 2:19 pace. It was a heated race between Balder and Wagstaff.

In the third heat of the 2:15 trot, Allie Walters came into the judges' stand and claimed that Shawke, driver of Billy Shawke, had pulled into Walters' sulky in an attempt to throw the latter. Shawke came into the stand and declared he did not attempt such a trick. The judges considered the matter and decided to give the Shawke horse seventh place in the third heat on account of the driver fouling. It is rumored that Shawke will file a protest.

The 2:19 trot, unfinished of Thursday, went to Simmons Boy, after three more heats of racing. The 2:17 pace, unfinished of Thursday, was won by Ernest Burns, with Cole up.
